Job overview

The post-holder(s) will be exposed to high-level interaction and decision-making within HEE and develop an understanding of healthcare policy, education and training reform, leadership, management and delivery. They will gain an understanding of the delivery and formulation of education and training end-to-end.

The post-holder(s) will have the opportunity to work with and be mentored by a range of senior staff including the National AHP Lead for HEE and the Chief Allied Health Professions Officer (CAHPO). There will also be the opportunity for peer support with the AHP Fellows in place in NHS England and NHS Improvement.

You will have the opportunity to work closely with a variety of HEE delivery teams across England as required as well as the Commissioning for Quality programme of work.

The successful fellows will receive training and profession-led mentoring coupled with opportunities to work across all of HEE. A leadership programme is included within this one-year opportunity which will be matched to individual need.

The post-holders will form part of a larger annual Fellow intake into HEE spanning both medical and non-medical professions.
