

Job Advert - Orthotist Position Sydney, Australia

Zortex Orthotics has proudly provided orthoses to clients from both the public and private sector for over 25 years. With clinics covering much of NSW, we encourage a multidisciplinary approach and work closely with medical and allied health staff in a wide variety of settings. Whilst we provide services to clients of all ages, our service is strongly influenced by its paediatric base.

We are looking for a compassionate team player to join our team, an Orthotist who would enjoy working with clients of all ages and clinical presentation. Whilst the position would be well suited to an Orthotist with experience, we would also welcome applications from new graduates with a passion for the profession coupled with a desire to learn. We have a strong mentoring environment, with our team sharing a combined 82 years of experience in the orthotic sector. We further support learning through encouraging participation in internal and external CPD activities.

We have a highly experienced team of Orthotic Technicians with access to central fabrication services. This allows us to deliver orthoses using both traditional fabrication techniques in conjunction with CAD CAM and 3D printed orthoses. We specialise in custom orthotics, but also have access to prefabricated devices from all the industry leaders.

The successful applicant will have the opportunity to:

- See clients from all stages of life, ranging from newborns through to geriatrics in palliative care.
- Receive training and certification through in-house and external CPD events.
- Attend regular joint orthotic clinics with Physiotherapists to provide wholistic orthotic solutions for clients with complex neuromuscular presentations.
- Work closely with Podiatrists attending our Outpatient High-Risk Foot Clinic.
- Provide custom and prefab spinal orthoses for post-surgery and trauma patients.
- Receive training on building foot orthotics using CAD software.
- Participate in helmet therapy clinics, run in collaboration with a paediatric neurology specialist.
- Have the freedom to innovate and grow through exploring personal areas of interest and new technologies.
- Build your own client base and run clinics independently when appropriate.

Remuneration is negotiable.
