Job overview

An exciting opportunity exists for a full-time, permanent Orthotist, with post-graduate experience, to join the in-house Orthotics department at Nottingham University Hospitals NHS Trust. It is primarily a clinical role treating both inpatients and outpatients in a variety of clinics.

Requirements

- HCPC registration as an Orthotist (essential)
- Membership of BAPO (desirable)

Main duties of the job

The Orthotics Department is based within an acute Trust that includes a Major Trauma Centre and a Spinal Injuries Unit, offering exposure to a diverse and often complex patient population.

The successful candidate will:

- Deliver care across a range of outpatient clinics, with adequate time allocated for assessments.
- Provide dedicated support for inpatient services on the wards.
- Work closely within multi-disciplinary teams, participating in joint clinics such as:
 - Diabetic Foot
 - Neurology
 - Paediatrics
 - Complex Footwear
 - Spinal

The department benefits from an on-site, fully equipped workshop staffed by six skilled technicians, ensuring excellent support for clinical staff. All Orthotists participate in weekly in-service training, have protected CPD time, and are encouraged to contribute to service development within both the department and the wider therapies and rehabilitation pathways.
